I'm not robot
reCAPTCHA Continue

Android app templates free for android studio

Source: Marco Miranda Our phones are pocket-sized super PDOs with professional cameras and batteries for days, but without the best Android apps to take advantage of it, what would be the point? There are millions upon millions of Android apps that convert our phones from shiny glass panels into productivity powerhouses, and over the past year, these are apps that have captured the day and made our lives easier, faster, and better. So now that you have one of the best Android phones of the year, make sure you download all the best Android apps. Source: Nick Sutrich / Android Central Who needs a personal assistant when you have services like Google Assistant and Amazon Alexa available wherever you go? These types of apps aim to help alleviate the stresses and pressures of your daily life to make things easier. From automation to smart home products and everything in between, these apps let you get things done with some help. From Assistant Routines in Google Clock to the vast expansion of Assistant-compatible smart home devices, to an overhaul of visual feedback, it's been a busy year for the Google Assistant. It felt like a century ago when Android Auto added Google Assistant, but that simple addition made millions of drivers safer, especially during these long, frustrating holiday drives. Free at Google Play Tasker stagnated a bit in previous years, but since new owner João Dias - the manufacturer of Tasker's most ardent AutoApps plugins and fans - took over, the automation app has seen a major UI overhaul and update. With TaskerNet and improved export/import, it's never been easier to share, tweak, and create great configurations and tasks for Android (and beyond). $3.49 at Google Play Amazon is no longer the top place to go for your online shopping needs, as the company continues to expand its grasp of the world. With Alexa, you get a personalized assistant in your pocket, along with integration with Echo devices and the ability to connect wherever you go. You can even make calls or send messages to other Alexa-enabled devices without paying a penny. Free at Google Play Have you ever wanted to know what kind of flowers you see while wandering? Well, with Google Lens, you can learn quickly just by holding your camera up to flowers. Lens will even translate foreign languages or save business cards for a contact faster than ever before. Free at Google Play IFTTT gives you the power to create different automations between apps and services that are not yet available. With over 630 different integrations, you can create your own formula and get alerts when it's on Amazon's ultimate wish list sold, for example. If you don't want to create your own, there is a community and library of different recipes to choose from and set up. Free at Google Play Whether you need to control lights, smart plugs, thermo regulators or speakers/Assistant screens from the warmth of the bed or the farthest corners of The new home view in the Google Home app makes it easy to use. Being able to add Home members to use what you've set up is a big step forward to make smart homes more accessible to all skill levels. Free at Google Play The best keyboard apps Source: Android Central Keyboard on your smartphone is one of the most used everyday apps. It's the first thing that comes up when your friends send you messages, if you need to reply to emails or if you just take your thoughts off. But the great thing is that there is a keyboard app that works for everyone, regardless of the basics or if you want to go to the extremes of customization. Gboard's keyboard continues to dominate the market with an increasingly expanding range of features on Android, iOS and early on Chromebooks. Some additions this year, including options like making your emoji pack or gif, seem trivial, but Gboard has also added support for dozens of new languages, as well as the recent floating keyboard mode that makes filling out forms easy. Free at Google Play Instead of handling basic stock themes on your keyboard, Chrooma gives you a keyboard with lots of customization options that your head will spin. This is in addition to having a smart AI feature to provide significantly improved contextual prediction when compared to competitors. You will also get the additional benefits of gestures that you already know and love. Free w/IAP at Google Play SwiftKey is climbing over four million download miles marked and for good reason; This custom keyboard gives you complete control. The app itself sports over 100 different themes, and you can even create your own with images you've captured or downloaded as backgrounds. SwiftKey also includes support for more than 300 languages, and you can turn on up to five different languages at once. Free at Google Play Many keyboard apps focus only on whether your spelling is wrong or not. Grammarly take things to the next level with smart predictions and even the ability to choose from the same words if you want to sound fancy. Not only can you expand your vocabulary, but your writing will sound professional. Free w/ IAP at Google Play The best browser Source: Android Central While google apps make it easy to quickly search for something, your mobile browser handles many heavy lifts. Some of these mobile browsers have become so powerful that you can install extensions, while others offer the most private browsing experience possible. And hey, one of our options even gives users the ability to make some dough while surfing. While ads help turn on lights for some people, they can be a real nuisance when you're just trying to see the latest article. With a browser like Brave, you are guaranteed to get the best Adblock browser, while getting a fast and secure browsing experience. There are also additional benefits of Brave paying you to browse the web at your pace and how you want. Free w/ advertising at Samsung Samsung's Google Play finally launched the Play Store a few years back and is much stronger than almost everything else you'll find. In addition to the built-in security features, Samsung also allows you to download third-party apps that act as extensions. And if you already have a Samsung device and are using this browser, you'll get more features that aren't available elsewhere, such as integration with the Gear VR and more. Free at Google Play Google Chrome is the de-facto choice for many and for good reason: it simply works. Google has worked tirelessly to bring new features to the app, along with keeping a new and sharp design. When you use Chrome, you'll get nearly all the same features as the app on your computer, including the ability to sync so you can start reading something on your phone and pick it up on your PC. Free at Google Play Firefox has been a fan favorite for desktop browsing, so why not check out its mobile browser? There's built-in ad tracker blocking, enhanced privacy controls, and extensions to give you all the tools you need. Free at Google Play The best VPN apps Source: Harish Jonnalagadda / Android Central Virtual Private Networks (VPN) is used for a variety of reasons, including providing you with the ability to hide your online identity. Another common use for VPNs is to stream some TV shows while you're traveling abroad. All of these apps are free, but there are subscriptions to consider if you want to browse safely everywhere. With over 3,000 different servers in over 90 countries, it's easy to see why ExpressVPN offers a great experience. It's easy to get started and then all your web browsers are encrypted and you can surf the web safely. After signing up for the service, there is no limit to the number of devices that can be connected and it will even protect your texts and instant messages. Free w/IAP at Google Play NordVPN is one of the best in the business due to the way it handles your data. The data passes through the original server, and then sends the same encrypted data to a second server for an additional layer of protection. In addition, there are more than 5,500 servers spread across more than 50 countries. Free w/ IAP at Google Play Surfshark excels at speed and because it can be used with an unlimited number of servers at the same time. It would be great for just about everything you want to do with your devices, but you won't be able to use Surfshark with online apps as it's located outside of usa free w/IAP at Google Play With IPVanish, you'll be provided with a safe environment for browsing, watching videos, and managing your bills. The service provides access to migrate more than 1,400 different servers across 75 countries, along with 24/7. In case you don't want to stick with this service, you have 30 days to change your mind. Free at Google Play The best file management app Source: Andrew Myrick / Android Central Although many of us have changed the way we use our phones, there are that will never change - we download a lot of things. I'm not just talking about apps, but also music files, documents, pdfs, or even new wallpapers. It's important to keep your files organized so you know where everything is or get rid of those old memes. If you tend to load a boatload of files into your smartphone, you'll need Simple File Manager Pro to keep them organized. This app provides an intuitive experience to access your original files while allowing access to a microSD card or USB device. Plus, there are plenty of customization options to create a theme that fits your wishes. $1.19 at Google Play Some want a simple file manager, but for those who want something a little more complicated, X-Plore File Manager is perfect. This app has an old Windows interface while giving you all the features you might want. You can even set up an app to access and manage files on your Android phone from your computer's web browser. Free w/IAP at Google Play Files starts out as a test app, but it turns into a lightweight way to keep your memory from getting filled. With features like Smart Suggestions, Files will suggest junk files that you can download and remove easily. Free at Google Play Astro has been available on the Play Store for over 10 years and it continues to be one of the best file management options. The app makes it easy to access your files, along with opening those annoying Zip and RAR files, right from your smartphone. Alternatively, you can manage your cloud storage services right from Astro, making it an all-in-one storage option. Free at Google Play The best social media apps Source: Android Central Social Media is a fickle sister. It can be a great source of news and information and an easy way to stay in touch with your friends, but it's also frustrating when the latest trends and memes clog your timeline. Fortunately, there are many different platforms to share your voice with like-like people or create a great community. I've been a third-party Reddit hideer for years, but this year, the official Reddit app has surpassed Relay, Boost, and the rest for the top app option. Reddit's new website interface has been a source of a lot of little debate, but I've quite liked both new sites looking at the continued improvements on the Android app. Now if only/r/Write Reminder didn't suck up all my dinner breaks... Free at Google Play Popularity of Instagram continues to increase and it seems that there is simply nothing that any competitor can do to stop it. This app is one of the best and easiest ways to share love photos whether you're tracking your life or like ngofy image editing. In addition, you'll get features like IGTV from some of your favorite creators, and the app makes it easier to find more people/brands to follow. Free at Google Play Let's face it. There are many Twitter apps on the Play Store, and while many of them are pretty good, none of them compete with Fenix 2. From multiple account support to a super useful mute system, Fenix 2 aims to be the best Twitter client out there. That doesn't even count the customization options that allow you to adjust your layout while giving twitter the ability to create themes that make Twitter more enjoyable to use. $4.99 at Google Play Just about everyone you know is on Snapchat and for good reason as it makes sharing your life easier than before. You'll get private messages, free cloud storage, and a variety of different ways to make your photos and videos perfect. Free w / Advertising at Google Play The best photography app Source: Andrew Martonik / Android Central After years of potato images from mobile devices, we are finally at a point where our smartphones can take better pictures than some DSLR cameras. The Play Store opens the door to various apps for capturing, editing and saving these photos that, in some cases, act as a digital memory bank. ProCam X opens up the potential of what your smartphone camera is capable of, which is pretty much today. This app makes it possible to control different aspects of the image by providing professional controls such as ISO, white balance and even geo-tagging. With this app, you can even take RAW photos, which opens up better image editing after the fact. $5 at Google Play After you've taken a photo, most likely you'll want to edit it. With Adobe Lightroom, you can make easy edits or push things up a notch and edit like a pro, right from your smartphone. Adobe even has a built-in professional camera for Lightroom to become your all-in-one solution for your mobile photography needs. Free w/ IAP at Google Play For those who care more about backing up their images and less about pro-level editing, then the only real choice is Google Photos. The app itself offers users some basic photo editing capabilities, while sometimes providing you stylized photos with how Google thinks your photos will look. In addition, you'll get Smart Auto Albums, Picture Books, and can create shared albums in seconds. Free at Google Play Our smartphone cameras are more powerful than ever and we're not just talking about taking pictures. With an app like FiLMiC Pro, you can shoot videos at a professional level and take full control of the editing process. Those who are familiar with shooting videos on DSLR cameras will feel at home, without having to lug around the camera bag. $15 at Google Play The best customization apps Source: Joe Maring/Android Central The biggest benefit of Android, when compared to competitors, is the ability to customize every aesthetic aspect of your sufferer. From the extensions you use to how your app drawer looks and even your settings menu, there's a way to customize things. These are the best apps you can use to get the exact look you want on your smartphone. If at the beginning of the year you tell me that launcher I want to use It's Smart Launcher, I'm going to laugh at you. Then Smart Launcher 5 came and I loved. The app drawer is classified as flexible as ever and with the integration of icon pack studio and gridless utility system, SL5 makes building and switching themes easy. Free w/IAP at Google Play Lawnchair 2 gives you a Pixel Launcher feel, with all the customizations you'll find in other third-party launchers. There is support for adaptable icons, along with new drawer category features, and more. You can use Lawnchair to create the most complex or basic launcher on your mobile device. Free at Google Play Big Brother by Kustom Widget manufacturer KWGT, Kustom Live Wallpaper's one-door theme has grown on me significantly this year. While the SL5's gridless widgets are nice, nothing beats identification, edge-to-edge widgets and positioning elements in KLWP. Formulas and menus can be difficult, but KLWP's powerful community, especially on Reddit, helps make any topic possible. Free / $4.49 at Google Play It can be frustrating when you have found an icon pack that you love, but there are a few apps that are not included. Sure, you can send a request to the developer and wait for the update to arrive, but there is a better solution. With Icon Pack Studio, you can create your own icon pack while customizing every icon to your preferences and it will work with any third-party launcher. Free or $4.49 (Pro) at Google Play Change wallpapers have been fun for as long as we've been able to do it, and Tapet has to be with us for quite some time. With Tapet, you can choose your own wallpaper or set the app to automatically create a new wallpaper for you once an hour or once a day. In addition, the app will automatically detect the resolution of your smartphone, so that the wallpaper looks sharp and will not stain your home screen. Free w / IAP at Google Play Some of us do not have time or want to go deep through thousands of icon packs, but just want something that looks great. Whicons is not flashy (on the surface), but the job gives you a nice icon pack for your Android phone. There are over 5,500 custom icons, along with accompanying wallpapers to match and support The Calendar Icon so that your calendar displays on the right day. Free w/IAP at Google Play Source: Ara Wagoner/Android Central In addition to customizing your phone to your heart's content, you can take advantage of items to quickly digest different bits of information. Whether you're just looking to see what the weather forecast looks like, or what you need to see on the agenda for today, there's a widget for everything. Then other apps allow you to create your own widget with any section of information you might think The best password manager Source: Joe Maring / Android Central Absolute, positive, in any case, you should have a note on your smartphone with the password listed. Hackers are better than ever today Your personal information may be more easily disclosed than you think. However, if you have a password manager, those passwords can be analyzed and then you'll be notified of whether they've been compromised. Then the app can help create secure, secure and almost unsc debris passwords so that your information doesn't fall into the hands of bad guys. 1Password isn't always the best option on the Play Store, but recent updates have increased the ante and pushed it to the top of the charts. The service gives you a short trial period before you need to sign up. And your vault will be protected while giving you the ability to keep important personal information safe but ready. Free w/IAP at Google Play LastPass does a great job of keeping all your passwords safe and secure, even if you want to stick to a free account. Then there are premium options for a single user, or you can protect the whole family with a specific plan. The service even offers Security Challenges, which keep your passwords up to date and secure and away from the bad guys. Free w/IAP at Google Play When it comes to Dashlane, you'll have access to up to 50 passwords saved on a single device with the free version, but Premium gives you more. With a Premium subscription, users have access to a personalized VPN, along with credit monitoring and identity theft protection. This is all in addition to being a great place to keep your passwords safe and make it easy to update them. Free w/ IAP at Google Play Stop using the same password every time you create a new login on the web. Enpass is a simple password manager that works regardless of whether you are connected to the web or not because the data is stored on your device and not on the company's servers. But you can easily sync all your passwords across your devices with the help of popular cloud services like Dropbox, Google Drive, and more. Free w/ IAP at Google Play The best messaging app Source: Android Central Be realistic, messaging is the main way that is just about everyone communicating. Thanks to different apps and services, recording text messages for your mother is much easier than calling your mom and sitting on the phone for an hour or more. Not everything requires a phone conversation, and messaging apps are open to easier communication with friends, family, colleagues, and others. Dark theme! Message to the web! It's been a big year for Google's SMS app, and while I still miss Mood Messenger and Textra themes, about the only third-party SMS app that can compete with Messages for the web is Pulse's paid SMS sync service, which is compatible with more platforms and browsers. The subject of the message may be but the dark theme is a welcome addition. Free at Google Play Android Central has slacked for years because Slack is one of the best chat apps on the market today, for business or personal purposes. The topic allows us to get into without spamming the main chat, and everyone can upload custom slackmoji for extra flair. All it takes now is a dark theme so I don't blind my boss when I ping them at 2am .m. Free at Google Play SMS Organizer started as an interesting project from the Microsoft Garage team but has turned into one of the smartest apps you can download. While you can still send SMS and MMS, SMS Organizer generates automatic reminders from your chats and even makes it easy for friends to return money for dinner, right from the app. You can even easily block spam, along with customizing notifications and setting specific ringtones for your contacts. Free at Google Play Telegram has been one of the fastest and most popular third-party messaging customers out there, but Telegram X turns everything into a notch. With version X of the app, interacting with the app is even faster and has even more features along with an improved interface and countless gestures to use. Free at Google Play Discord is designed with gamers in the center, but more and more people are turning to the messaging platform thanks to its integration and ease of use. You can quickly build a user community, with easy community management, while setting up membership roles and having invited links available. Free at Google Play If end-to-end encryption is the name of the game, Signal Private Messenger is the best choice. It ensures that any messages you send are safe, and you can even set up apps that act as the default SMS app on your Android device. You can even make guaranteed voice and video calls in private, no matter what. Free at Google Play The Best Weather Apps Source: Harish Jonnalagadda/Android Central Nobody wants to be caught in a storm at the wrong time, and it's important to know whether you'll need your jacket or if it's shorts and slippers time. There are many weather apps on the Play Store that come to find rough diamonds quite difficult. Thankfully, there are a few apps that stand alone from the package while offering something unique. AccuWeather is an easy suggestion for a great weather app thanks to its MinuteCast function. This gives you the most up-to-date weather alerts so you know if there's an unexpected storm that you don't need to encounter. Plus, the app includes a live radar of your area, showing you where the nearest storm system is so you can prepare. Free w/IAP at Google Play Weather can be annoying, so it's important to have an app that makes weather forecasts manageable. Today Weather excels in that matter with its beautifully designed app and access to any different bits of information you may want. Also, it's customizable so you can see or hide what you want to know what you don't know. Free w/IAP at Google Play Instead of relying on an app to let you know when bad weather can be heading your way, why not see it for yourself? RadarScope for a radar-view of whatever's going on around you, with up-to-the-minute updates along with potential storm warnings from the National Weather Service. Free w/IAP at Google Play Yahoo Weather has come a long way over the years and now sports a stunning design that shows you all the information you need. You can track up to 20 cities at once or play around with interactive maps to see where the storm system is expected to pass. Free w/Ads at Google Play The Best News Apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central World is moving at a faster rate than ever before and you don't want to miss the proper news being talked about around the office. There are news applications from dedicated sources, but there is a set of analysis of unnecessary news from the essentials. You can use an app that lets you synthesize news you care about from sources you trust in a neat layout. Having a news app to synthesize what's important to you while also giving you an idea of what's going on in the rest of the world is important. Google News does this with quick access to the top five daily headlines and the For you tab so you can read the news you're interested in. Google even includes full coverage, compiling a list of sources, and more for key stories. Free w/ads at Google Play Feedly are for those who want a news app that is customized to suit their interests around the world. The app makes it easy to organize your favorite sources with the power of RSS while integrating with other apps like IFTTT and Zapier. With Discover, you can browse through different news categories to keep up with different topics you don't usually see. Free w/IAP at Google Play If you want to keep track of what's going on in your area, and not necessarily the rest of the world, then SmartNews is perfect. The app provides a section that displays your local news while providing you with the necessary notifications and even gadgets you can throw on your home screen. In addition, you'll have access to some of the best news sources synthesized in one location for quick access. Free w/ advertising at Google Play It can be difficult to pick through overwhelming news headlines from different sources. So why not use an app like Inoreader to pay attention only to sources you know and trust? This RSS reader lets you manage your personalized news feed so you only get the news you care about. Free at Google Play The Best Reading Apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central There's something special about keeping a physical book in your hands and turning pages while diving deeper and deeper into a story. However, in this day and age, you can save the entire library directly on his phone. Whether you want to read a book at your lunch break or catch up on a comic book series, these apps make it easy. Amazon's Kindle app is simply great at allowing users access to a library of books, magazines, and more in their pockets. If you for Amazon Prime, the company provides members with access to over 1,000 different titles for free. If you don't have time to read, there are built-in Audible nar0s for many books. Free w / advertising at Google Play Do not have time to sit and read? Let Audible read the books that tell you. The app offers library-based suggestions and your options while offering your first talk book for free after signing up. Audible even allows users to earn $20 in Amazon credit if they have completed three titles on March 3. What else do you want? Free at Google Play It's good and dandy to read comics in boring ebook readers, but Comixology gives you all the comics you might want in a clean interface. There are over 100,000 comics, graphic novels and manga to choose from and you can buy them right in the app. Now you can start catching up with your favorite comic series along the way. Free at Google Play While some e-book readers only allow readers to read books purchased directly through their app or only in one format, Moon + Reader is more open. The app supports more than 10 different formats, including EPUB, HTML, and PDF. As your library grows, you can personalize your library and create collections, all while using a single app to read everything. Free w/IAP at Google Play The best sports apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central Much of the world is consumed by their favorite sports, from football to the NFL and everything in between. Thanks to the selection of apps in the Play Store, you can keep track of it all. Whether you want to know if your top fantasy pick has been injured, or if you want to capture the highlights from last night's game, these apps make it possible. Gone are the days of needing separate apps to keep track of your various favorite sports. With theScore, you can track a wide range of sports, statistics and more without switching apps. You can even create personalized feeds to keep track of specific teams, tournaments, or even your favorite players. Free w/advertising at Google Play ESPN has been the Worldwide Leader in Sports for over 40 years and the company continues to bring the best sports content along the way. The app itself makes it easy to stream games from your favorite groups, along with providing you with highlights for the West Coast game you fell asleep in during that time. Free w/IAP at Google Play Yahoo Sports is one of the few sports apps that not only allows you to read the latest headlines for your favorite team, but allows you to watch the game as well. If you miss the game, catch all the highlights in a center or play some fantasy pick-em game if want some fun. With Yahoo Sports, you'll be able to keep track of all your favorite teams, along with MMA, boxing or racing. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Video Streaming Apps Source: Ara Wagoner/Android Central Streaming Service is the way of the future and these days, there is a streaming service available to everyone. While old-fashioned sitcoms and movies are great, these online movies are pushing new and unique content that takes advantage of 4K HDR play back and tells some of the best stories. Then others give you a platform to create your own videos and share them with the world. Disney+ is the new kid in the streaming service sector, and it's an extremely welcome addition to the arsenal. The app gives you quick access to your favorite Disney classics, along with new shows like The Mandalorian for those who want more Star Wars in their lives. The app lets you create profiles for people, and you can download headlines directly to your device for easy offline viewing. Free w/IAP at Google Play Netflix is killing the game in original content, offering some of the best movies, documentaries, and TV shows. The company is even working to reboot some classic series, while also being the main source for some older sitcoms and movies. Free at Google Play Can you have problems with the YouTube app? Just sign in to your account and watch videos from your subscription or create playlists so you can watch them later. You can even start as a YouTube Creator by editing and uploading videos directly from the app. Free ads at Google Play It's no secret that Warner Media has a huge library of original videos, shows, and content. With HBO Max, you can now access a lot of content under its aus patrons, including content from HBO, TBS, Cartoon Network, and more. You can create up to five different profiles and download some movies to watch offline if you have an upcoming trip or just don't want to handle streaming. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Music Apps Source: Ara Wagoner/Android Central Regardless of whether you're on a road trip or just trying to hunker down and get some work done, music makes the world go' round. These music streaming services give you the largest library of songs that you can imagine and make products like the iPod look like a faint relic of the past. Just open the app, choose the song stuck in your head and belt out the lyrics like there is no tomorrow. Spotify seems to be trying to take over the music world, but that's for good reason. The app offers some of the most personalized suggestions and playlists so you can find new music you've never heard on a slick interface. If you just want a basic music player, the free version works well with some limitations. Free w/IAP at Google Play slowly but surely, YouTube Music is becoming what we expect from Google Play Music, and it keeps getting better. With The Hotlist, you can get an idea of what the most popular songs are, or find something that is trending before it hits the radio airwaves. the biggest benefit is that you have access to YouTube Music if you have subscribed to Google Play Music or YouTube Red. Free w/ advertising at Google Play Apple Music has made great strides since its inception to try and take on giants in Spotify, and it's largely With over 60 million songs in the catalog, along with exclusives like Beats 1 Radio, Apple Music appeals to people and anyone, even if you don't own a single Apple product. Free at Google Play When it comes to streaming music, big names have limits on sound quality, but that's not related to TIDAL. This streaming service is designed for audio enthusiasts, offering up to 9216Kbps, the same quality you'll get from listening in the studio. Plug in your favorite headphones, adjust your EQ, and turn on music. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Podcast Apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central Radio Radio can be annoying with ads that come up every few minutes, often lasting longer than the show you're listening to. Podcasts give you access to radio shows that interest you, and make it so you can sit back and enjoy a simple conversation or listen to a riveting story that lasts multiple episodes. Pocket Casts is simply the best all-in-one podcast player app you can get on the Play Store. This app provides easy access to your subscription, a variety of customizable play-back options, and you can find new podcasts more easily than ever before. Also, you'll never miss a podcast episode with different notification options that you can set from within the app. Free w/IAP at Google Play If you want a simple, no-nonsense podcast player, Google has you covered with its Podcast app. Google Podcasts makes it easy to just start listening to your favorite podcasts without a bunch of extra cumbersome. And you can use the Google Search app to find different podcasts and podcast episodes while playing them as soon as you find them. Free at Google Play Podcast Addict does more than just give you a nice interface to interact with your favorite podcasts. The app includes over 100,000 radio stations and 20,000 audio-books, and offers personalized suggestions based on your subscription. You can even set up an RSS news feed and follow YouTube/Twitch channels from the app. Free w/ads at Google Play Castbox are a little different from other popular podcast players thanks to unique features like Zen Mode and Listen Time. Zen Mode makes it possible to use Castbox as the source of your meditation sessions, while Listening Time gives you an overview of what your favorite podcast really is, along with how much time you spend listening. Castbox even makes it possible to connect with like-like podcast listeners with its great Community feature. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Sleep Tracking Apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central With all the launch devices around you and the screen always ready to turn on, it has Be hard to get a good night's rest. However, the Play Store has a number of apps that can help you sleep while analyzing how you sleep and provide ways to improve. It can be difficult to wake up on time, let alone try your analysis you unless you have an app like Sleep Cycle. The app will train you to have a better night's sleep regularly, while gently waking you up at the right time so you feel refreshed. With the analytics tab, you can see how you slept the night before, check if you're snoring, and get even better sleep suggestions. Free w/IAP at Google Play Waking up on time is a difficult task, but falling asleep can be just as difficult. With Sleep Sounds, this is done a little easier. The app includes 12 different natural sounds, works offline and allows you to set a timer so that the app doesn't run all night. Free w/IAP at Google Play Sleep Time combines the benefits of a sleep magazine, alarm clock, and sleep analysis all in one beautifully designed app. Different background algorithms will help you get the best sleep you've had in years. Then you can wake up the next day to see how well you sleep and for how long. Free w/IAP at Google Play Sleep tracking can be frustrating since you almost never get the same results when using a smartwatch or your phone. Sleeping like Android does a great job at giving you all the tools you need to get a great night's sleep with the ability to connect with your favorite wearables. Your data can then be viewed easily from the Sleep app as Android, or you can take advantage of Samsung's Google Fit and S Health apps. Free w/IAP at Google Play The best dating app Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central Breakups is hard to get through to everyone, but there comes a time when you'll want to strap on your boots and get back in the saddle. These dating apps make it easier than ever to meet new people and whether you're looking for a new friend or building a new relationship, these apps get you started. OkCupid excels at providing users with insights into potential matches, along with making it easy to start a conversation. The app even includes different questions so you'll know if you're compatible with your matches. There are a few ads to handle unless you upgrade to a premium subscription, but they're not too intrusive. Free w/IAP at Google Play Tinder helped kickstart the trend of mobile dating apps with its simple profile display and the whole right swipe wave. The app excels at starting a conversation after being combined, helping you get closer to the perfect first day. There are even more features to take advantage of if you sign up for Tinder Gold such as unlimited likes, Super Likes and more profile control. Free at Google Play Bumble is unique as it is not only designed to help users get a date, but can also be a source to meet some friends in a new city. On the dating side of things, users create a profile and can only swipe through. After the match is over, the conversation can start or the match will expire within 24 hours if nothing is said. Free w/IAP at Google Play The best apps for finance Source: Source: Center For many, stock trading can be cumbersome and overwhelming, but Robinhood makes things easy, and you don't have to throw down a boatload of cash. The Robinhood app allows you to invest in a variety of stock options and you can even dive into the cryptocurrency world if you feel adventurous. Free at Google Play Some people need to operate on a budget, and Monefy makes it easy to track your daily expenses with just a few taps. Then you can see where all your money is going, along with how close you are to paying off your credit card or saving for a new player. Free/$2.50 at Google Play Gone are the days of finding out how to split cheques. Venmo, backed PayPal, allows you to easily split invoices with your friends while giving the ability to send funny notes about each payment. And if necessary, transferring money from Venmo to your bank account can happen in seconds with Instant Transfer. Free at Google Play You don't have to worry about playing games guessing when a package will be delivered if you have a tracking number. After you enter the number in the Package Tracker, you'll get regular notifications when your package travels in the country. There's even an add-on you can use to browse to see when the package will be delivered. Free w/IAP at Google Play If you want an app that you can watch and track your financial life, then you can't go wrong with Mint. After signing up and adding different financial accounts, you can see all your money, including bank accounts, car loans, credit cards, and more. It also gives you the ability to create a more sticky budget and track every penny entered or left your account. Free at Google Play Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central Time parade on and new toys that you bought a year ago have started collecting dust in the corner. Should you recycle it? In some cases it is correct, but as the saying goes, a man's trash is another man's treasure and there is a chance to make some money back. These apps allow you to list old clothes, electronics and even cars so that they can be put to use and in return for some additional green. eBay has been the leader when it comes to quickly and easily selling your old equipment, clothes, and just about anything else for years now. After you create an account and take a picture, you can create a new list in a matter of moments. Plus, you'll get the added benefit of finding some great deals for yourself. Free w/ advertising at Google Play A recent update to the service has brought LetGo on par with the likes of eBay and Facebook Marketplace. You were able to sell your old clothes that didn't fit anymore, but now you can even sell that car already sitting in the driveway. Plus, you can quickly chat with anyone interested in your items, without checking your email or giving away your phone number. Free w/ IAP at Google Play Unfortunately, there isn't a one Facebook Marketplace app, but you can still access it from the Facebook mobile app. This gives you a look at the items available for sale around you, while also allowing you to sell to someone local and eliminate the worries about shipping. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Mental Health Apps Source: Android Central Mindless YouTube videos and video games don't do much to keep your mind sharp. At the end of the day, your mind is the most powerful tool everyone has, and it's important to keep it sharp. These tools allow you to leave your phone or work as an extension to help keep your mind comfortable. Launched by the author of Action Launcher, ActionDash takes Digital Wellbeing and turns it up to 11. With this app, you can see the dashboard of exactly how you're using your phone, including the average time of sessions. This gives you all the information you need to help spend less time on your phone and more time with important people. Free w/IAP at Google Play Daily diary ideas can be tiring. Daylio helped change that thinking. It gives you a variety of reminders to answer versus just giving you a piece of white paper. As the days go by, you can take a step back and review how your day played out with a dashboard showing your mood chart and more. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Workout Apps Source: Joe Maring/Android Central One of the most popular New Year's resolutions is to start hitting the gym to either grow up or lose some weight. However, some apps make it so you don't even need to step foot in a gym if you want to lose weight at your own pace. And what better way to do so than with the help of some extremely powerful applications designed specifically for your needs. Google Fit has gradually become a fan favorite for fitness tracker users who want a meaningless way to track their health. The app offers customizable health goals based on recommendations from the World Health Organization and the American Heart Association. There are even personal trainer tips to help push you closer to being the healthiest you can be. Free at Google Play Gone are the days when you need to worry about paying an arm and a leg for a personal trainer, especially with the Nike Training Club app. The app offers various exercises to help you know what you need to do to improve in different areas. And there are personal workout suggestions that populate you more workouts. Free w/IAP at Google Play Perhaps the biggest barrier when trying to lose some weight is your food amount. MyFitnessPal makes this as easy as you can quickly search and find foods you are eating with over 6 million options in the database. Just set your weight goals, and the app will calculate the calories you are supposed to eat every day. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best To-Do Apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central It happens all the time. You start adding items to your to-do list, but they end up being forgotten Then you have to hurry and do everything at once. Or maybe you just need a way to have a quick note for easy access later. These productivity apps help ensure that you keep track of your tasks or more in-depth projects. Tracking your various tasks and projects can be a real pain, but with Todoist, all your concerns can be put to rest. The app makes it easy to quickly import a task while providing the ability to create projects, cards, and more so that your to-do list is always organized. Todoist can even integrate with apps like Gmail, Slack, and more so you can add the necessary tasks as soon as they appear. Free w/IAP at Google Play Keep Your Evernote and Your TickTick, Google Keep is with me to the end of the line and it is 100% free. Keep is another Google app to see visual updates this year, and while I'm still waiting for a dark theme, 12 expanded color options, extra tasks to the improved Drive checkout and integration list help Keep the task manager and the only inspiration panel I use. Free at Google Keep Have you ever wanted to plant a tree on your smartphone? With Grow, you can do it and grow as many trees as you can think of. Tracking this habit is simple and straight forward to keep track of and remind you of the habits you want to follow. Every time you complete the routine, your tree will grow little by little, giving you something to look forward to. Free at Google Play The best learning app Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central Along with keeping your mind sharp, you'll want to continue training your brain and yourself to learn something new all the time. No matter if it's learning a new language or trying to figure out exactly what atomic physics is, there's an app for that. Or maybe you just want a book of information condensed into a 15-minute session, giving you the most important points. Duolingo is one of the more powerful apps on the Play Store as it will teach you how to speak and understand the new language right away. This app is free and offers over 30 different languages to learn while helping push the limits of what you would have said. Free w/ IAP at Google Play There is Wikipedia and then there is WolframAlpha. The mobile app provides instant knowledge and even calculations for anything you might want to know. These types range from basic mathematics, all the way to geosynology, and even geosynology. $2.99 at Google Play The Best Email Apps Source: Daniel Bader/Android Central Email is simply the worst form of communication. Instead of receiving spam flyers in your inbox, you'll now get ads and spam in your email inbox. However, some depend so much on email that it becomes a way of life. And folks need an app that makes organizing and consolidating emails easy so you can finally achieve the Traditional Inbox Zero. Gmail is one of the best apps, no matter which platform you like. Google figured out how to do email email properly with its Gmail app, and you get many different tools at your own mind. And you're not even restricted to just using your Gmail account in the app, as there's no support for people like Outlook, Yahoo, or other IMAP/POP accounts. Free w/ advertising at Google Play Microsoft Outlook was once considered an afterth think, but not more, as Microsoft has put in time to make this app great. Focus Inbox lets you worry about what's important while including the calendar app and OneDrive file manager in a single app. Outlook makes it easy to organize your day and ensures you'll never miss anything. Free w/advertising at Google Play Newton Mail had a history of up and down after being bought several times, but now it's back with new (and private) owners. This app is great at handling your email with a minimalist approach and has quite a few useful features for sorting those annoying and annoying emails. Free w/IAP at Google Play The best app for driving Source: Joe Maring/Android Central Unless you've lived in the same place for the last 15-20 years, most likely you don't remember the right path to get somewhere new. Or maybe you need to get a ride from the train station to the hotel and you don't rent a car and don't want to hail a taxi. These travel apps make it easy to do whatever you need to do and then some apps. When it comes to getting to your destination, there's no better app to navigate than Google Maps. The service is one of the most accurate mapping apps available and includes additional information such as real-time transfer updates. A recent update even makes it possible to book an Uber or Lyft if you need to ride somewhere. Free at Google Play With nearly 7 million downloads, it's easy to see why Uber has taken over the ride-sharing world. This service is available in more than 600 cities and it's easier than ever to have someone pick you up without a taxi or bus ride. Free at Google Play The biggest benefit to MAPS. ME is not the navigation benefit of the app, but instead, the ability to download all your apps for offline use. You won't be able to see traffic in real time, but you can get anywhere you need to go. Map. ME even works to join public transport in an unknown city. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best Calendar Apps Source: Android Central Nobody wants to miss that important doctor appointment, but if you don't have it written down somewhere, that's a possibility. Having a mobile calendar makes it quick and easy to organize your day while being reminded of that important meeting. These apps can be tailored to your needs, showing you the most important information about Your day will take place. Google Calendar is already a great way to keep track of your daily, weekly, and monthly appointments. Then add integration with Gmail, and you'll get events from your email inbox added automatically. Google also Reminders so you never miss a task, and you can even add personal goals that will be automatically scheduled. Free at Google Play aCalendar interface is one of the best and most beautiful interfaces you can find. Add to that the intuitive way to quickly add events and view different views and you have a home run. The only downside is that you'll have to stick with Google's calendar services to take advantage of aCalendar. Free w/ IAP at Google Play Unlike other options, DigiCal works with many popular calendar services like Google, Outlook and others. The app also offers schedules for many popular sports, so you'll always know when the game is next. Plus, you can see detailed weather information for each day so you know whether to bring a raincoat. Free w / IAP at Google Play The best application for file backup Source: Daniel Rubino / Android Central You do not want to be stuck in the dark trying to find that file that you may have vowed you have downloaded, but have been buried. Our smartphones are literally pocket computers and it is important to keep the downloaded files neatly organized. Plus, it's always nice to be able to have an app analyze your files and photos and offer to delete them without you going through them one by one. Google Drive is just part of the puzzle that is Google's productivity of completing application set work. This is where you'll find all your different documents and can use it as a backup for projects created on your phone or computer. You'll then be able to see your files, regardless of your internet connection. Free w/IAP at Google Play While you get started with just 5GB of storage, OneDrive automatically upgrades Office 365 subscribers to 1TB of storage. This is perfect for backing up all your documents, spreadsheets, and even photos. Just turn on Upload to camera and you'll get an automatic backup for your photos taken on your Android device. Free w/IAP at Google Play Dropbox is one of the first cloud storage options offered to the public and the company is still rolling along. The starting storage limit of 2GB is a bit on the low side, but signing up for DropBox Plus ($9.99 per month) gives you up to 2TB of storage. There are apps for iOS, Android, Windows, and Mac so your files will sync and be available everywhere. Free w/IAP at Google Play The Best PDF Scanner Apps Source: Android Central If you go to an event or have a lot of meetings with new business partners, it's very likely that you'll end up with a lot of business cards that go in a drawer. With these PDF scanners, you can take snapshots and then immediately have a digital business card that can be added to a contact or saved for use This. Office Lens quickly and easily captures images of documents and business cards and turns them into PDFs. You can then save them to your OneDrive account or even point to your device directly. Once converted, your images can be edited and tweaked comment until the end of time. Free at Google Play Adobe has its hands in many different pots, and with Adobe Scan, you can scan just about anything and have it converted to a PDF. With Smart Scan,